Native Indian Soldiers.

India pays for her army, but she does not pay for our fleet, and it is our fleet and not her army which saves her from the invasions which if we lost command of the sea would in three years destroy at once her commercial prosperity and her immunity from internal disorder.

She ought not to pay extra money for a project which is ours, but it is perfectly fair that she should pay the wages and expenses which she would pay if the troops were at home. Her garrison is not the feeble, but the stronger, for a spell of foreign work, which reveals and cures defects of equipment, which binds officers and men together as nothing else does, and which, above all, gives the fighting races—Sikhs, Pathans and Mahatras—an outlet for their inborn military spirit. There is no education for soldiers like a well managed expedition, more especially if they are men who enjoy it and if they belong to races which tend to despondency and fat if they never have anything to do.

We think it quite fine if Canadian or Australian regiments volunteer to help us, and not to mention that every native soldier is a volunteer who enlists unprompted even by "the stern conscription of hunger," among the Sikhs and Pathans, at all events, a call for volunteers would be answered by entire regiments stepping to the front. They love the excitement of campaigning, which to them seems life. It is nonsense to talk of "mercenaries" in an empire 100 years old. It is as much their interest while the empire lasts that it should succeed in war as it is ours, and provided there is no conscription, we see no more moral objection to calling on her majesty's Indian than on her majesty's British or Irish subjects to fight on her behalf.—London Spectator.

New Words.

It is a matter of surprise that the universality of the bicycle has not produced an extensive vernacular. As a matter of fact, the slang expressions in general use are but few. "Bike" is simply an abominable abbreviation of bicycle. Cyclist is a legitimate and comprehensive word that is shorter than wheelman or wheelwoman. In France the latter is called a "bicyclette." In faraway New Zealand the awful word "cyclodromo" has been coined as a substitute for wheelwoman. In many western towns the fair rider is called a "bloomer" without regard to her costume. The word "scorcher," as indicating a speedy cyclist, is fairly current upon the language. In Chicago, however, the "scorcher" is called a "scout." The technicalities of the machine have led to attempts on the part of young men to coin expressions. "Your tire is punctured" indicates that the story you are telling lacks the probable element of truth. Reckless statements are called "coasting." A very ancient yarn is not a "chickadee," but a "century." A young couple sharing mutual fondness are "riding tandem." A man leading a fast life is "geared for high." An old fogey is referred to as a "high wheel." A chap who is known as a "pacemaker." A cheap bicycle is called a "gas pipe" machine. A professional racer is a "pro."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Carb Wire Boomerang.

"I've effectually stopped those blamed dogs from digging up the lawn," said Mr. Baxter as he sighed and dropped heavily into his chair at the breakfast table.

"What have you done, dear?" inquired Mrs. B. as she raised the lid and peered into the coffee-pot.

"Mr. Baxter chuckled.

"I got some pieces of barb wire and buried them in the lawn, sprinkling enough dirt over them to hide their outlines. The first neighborhood dog that goes for that lawn will get a jolly pair of sore paws."

"Mrs. Baxter joined in his laughter. "That's a very clever idea, my dear," she sweetly said.

Just at that moment a frightful chorus of yelps and howls came from the front yard, and in rushed little John Wesley carrying the family pet dog.

"Oh, mamma," he cried, "Pippo's foot is all bleedin'."

Mrs. Baxter received the wounded dog in her maternal arms with a look of supreme contempt at her liege lord.

"John Wesley Baxter," she freezing remarked, "of all the fool schemes I ever heard of, this last one of yours takes the blue ribbon for unmitigated idocy."

And she swept from the room.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fire Lighting For a Living.

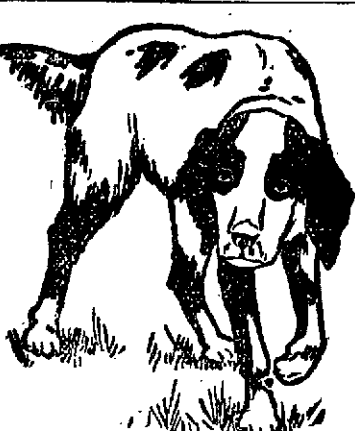

A most peculiar means of turning an honest penny is by making and attending to fires. The Jewish race is forbidden to touch fire on the Sabbath day, and to avoid the inconvenience thus caused—especially during the winter months—women, known as shobos goyim, are hired to light the fires on the day of rest.

The work commences early on the Sabbath morn and continues till sunset. Many of these women, who confine their labors to the east end of London, have sometimes so many as 30 or more fires to look after. The work is very tiring and laborious during the cold weather, when large fires are indispensable. For each fire attended to a woman receives three pence and upward.—Pearson's Weekly.

ERIE MEDICAL CO., Buffalo, N. Y.

One's physical feelings, like the faithful setter, search and point out plainly the fact of disease or health.

If a man is not feeling well and vigorous—he is losing flesh and vitality, if he is listless, nervous, sleepless, he certainly is not well. The down hill road from health to sickness is smooth and declines rapidly.

At the first intimation of disease, the wise man takes a pure, simple vegetable tonic. It puts his digestion into good active order and that puts the rest of his body in order. The medicine that will do this is a medicine that is good to take in any trouble of the blood, the digestion, or the respiration, no matter how serious it may have become.

The medicine to take is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a remarkable remedy. It cures diseases in a perfectly natural way without the use of strong drugs. It cures by helping Nature. It has a peculiar tonic effect on the lining membranes of the stomach and bowels.

By putting these membranes into healthy condition, stimulating the secretion of the various digestive juices and furnishing to the blood the proper curative properties, it reaches out over the whole body and drives disease germs before it into the usual excretory channels. It builds up firm muscular flesh, makes the skin and the eyes bright.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been found wonderfully efficacious in the treatment of skin diseases—eczema, tetter, erysipelas, salt-rheum—from common pimples or blotches to the worst case of scrofula.

MR. RUSSELL'S POSITION.

He Was Not for Cleveland in 1892.
To correct a misapprehension that Mr. George Russell of Elko, one of the nominees for Presidential elector on the Silver and Democratic tickets, was for Cleveland four years ago, the following is published:
At the Elko County Convention held October 24th, 1892, the following platform and resolutions were adopted:
The Democratic party of Elko county in convention assembled hereby declare their unalterable faith in Democratic principles as laid down by the fathers of the Republic.
Resolved, That we condemn Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison for their hostility to silver, and the action of the Democratic majority of the 52nd Congress in refusing to pass a free coinage bill, and we as Democrats, true to the interests of our State, and the fundamental principles of our party, demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the present ratio of 16 to 1.
Resolved, That it is the duty of every citizen of Nevada, regardless of party, to support James B. Weaver of Iowa for President and James G. Field of Virginia for Vice President of the United States.
Resolved, That Senator Stewart, for his untiring energy in the cause of free silver, and his independent action in the defeat of the infamous Force bill, is entitled to the support of the people of this State, and we hereby pledge the nominees of this Convention for the Legislature to support him for the Senate of the United States.
Resolved, That we believe the election of Francis G. Newlands to Congress to be in the interests of the people of this State and we hereby advise the Democracy of Elko county to give him their earnest support.
Resolved, That we are in favor of a Constitutional Convention to revise the fundamental law of this State to the end that useless laws may be abolished and idle deputies compelled to earn an honest living.
Respectfully submitted,
George Russell, Chairman.

BROWN INDICTED.

The Grand Jury Brings Five Indictments Against Him.
The Grand Jury to-day reported to Judge Mack five indictments against Harry Brown. These five indictments charge Brown with embezzlement by three methods.
First: It is charged that he paid creditors in San Francisco by check, issuing same for several hundred dollars while on the stub they appeared as $4 and other small amounts.
Also that he made collections in the State in the name of the bank for other parties and pocketed the money.
And lastly that he took cash from the bank.
All amounts to $66,200. The Judge at once issued a bench warrant, which was placed in the hands of the Sheriff.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

FROM THE SOUTH.

Only Office Holders, and Seekers for McKinley.

BRIDGEPORT, MONO CO., CAL., September 8, 1896.
EDITOR JOURNAL.—A word of possible interest for our politics out this wise.

Bryan and McKinley—prosperity and damnation (there to dwell, etc.) are strictly not in the fight here. What appears to be of importance is the Judgeship. Judge Addy and Judge Virden are hot in the fight. It isn't safe to be a partisan—men are big and brawny out here—and here comes Dick Minor, who will be called Judge too, provided he can get enough votes. No one knows, or cares much, what platform these festive sportsmen stand on, but the excitement is badly just the same.

Now also here do mine—the Travertine works a booming, Copper Mountain with over a million of free milling ore in sight, the old Dunderberg starting up again by a Scotch (bless the name) syndicate, with every prospect of great success, and, as I understand, a holy sight better claim taken up above the same by Mr. Cameron.

I saw Fred Gould day before yesterday and despite the fact that his fishing basket was full and had a string of seventeen beauties on a willow looked pretty near despondent as to miles—fact was it was eight miles to beer. Fishing is great here at Twin lakes and in all streams.

To be serious there is more opportunity for a poor prospector in this vicinity than any I know of, and I know Nevada from here to the State line and east to Utah. There was a Dutchman out near our camp for a week who came back grumbling, "nottings but silver—nottings but silver in this damn country." He was no believer in Bryan—being only ignorant, not malicious as the other adversaries of our Apostle do be. There is a strong Bryan contingent here, only office holders and seekers appear across the fence. Now may the Lord be with you and tell Thyres to set 'em up.

Yours, A. J. C.

ELKO ALL RIGHT.

How a Lawyer Tipped the Landlord's Wife.

The delegates who attended the Silver Convention at Elko unite in praising the good treatment they received from the citizens and especially the high class fare and low prices prevailing at the Depot Hotel run by Osterreicher and Mayer. About a dozen pretty water-girls served the guests that packed the dining-room and on account of the jam Mrs. Osterreicher joined the waiters' brigade. She is a very handsome woman, steps about like a crackjack and has a roguish eye that seemed to attract the glances of many susceptible delegates.

One of them, a well known barrister, passed a fifty-cent piece into her hand as she leaned over the table, his face meanwhile assuming a far away abstracted look as if he was turning a party platform over in his mind. Half an hour later when he went to the pay-counter and laid down a four-bit piece the waiter girl who was near nodded her head over his shoulder.

"That's paid for," said the landlord. "Why no," said the attorney. "Yes you paid my wife when you first sat down."

"That's right, don't you remember, sir, you handed me the money when you first sat down," said the landlord's wife, smiling.

The Elko boarders snickered and the lawyer pocketed his four-bit piece headed for the open door.—Carson Appeal.

Wonder if Sam Davis was the imaginary attorney, and if the incident wasn't taken from the pretty typewriter episode at St. Louis.

The Coming Fair.

The outlook for a lively Fair week is growing better each day as the date approaches. The stalls for stock exhibits and horses for speed contests are being engaged rapidly and the display of live stock will compare with the best ever shown on the grounds. At the Pavilion considerable space is already spoken for and it is thought that the end of next week will find every inch taken and many of the exhibits in place.

The additional attractions this year will be of a different character and surpass those of any previous exhibition. The practical demonstration of the Oathrod or X-ray, as it is generally known, will be wonderful. The magnificent stereoscopic views alone will be worth all the ticket to the fair costs for the whole week. Visitors may be assured that they will be treated well and spend an enjoyable week.

District Court.

In the District Court yesterday a motion by the plaintiff to retax the costs in the case of Wm. Finniger vs. S. M. Jamison was overruled.

In the case of Wm. Barrett vs. S. P. R. Co. five days was given defendant to answer.

Case of Alexander vs. Theo. Winters, et al., the demurrer of defendant was overruled and ten days given to file answer.

BREVITIES.

F. P. Dann of the Riverside Studio is doing some of the finest photographic work ever seen in Reno. Children's pictures a specialty. He guarantees satisfaction to every patron.

Ex-Governor Blaisdel and other mining men are on the Comstock considering a proposition to extend the Comstock tunnel and drain the American flat.

Judge Mack took the train last night for Dallas, Tex., where he goes as a representative of the Grand Lodge of Nevada, I. O. O. F., to the Sovereign Grand Lodge that convenes at that city on the 21st.

The gold Republicans are as inconsistent on their "home rule" cry as they are on the silver question. They nominated a "tenderfoot" for Congress who has scarcely acquired a voting residence in the State.

It has been ascertained by a house to house canvass that 50 per cent of the Republican farmers of Iowa are for Bryan. Forty thousand Republicans in the State are favorable to Bryan and 12,000 Democrats incline toward McKinley.

C. Lemery of the Arcade restaurant will serve a splendid Sunday dinner to-day from 1 till 8 o'clock. Chicken, ice cream and other choice delicacies will be on the bill of fare. A half-bottle of beer or claret served with every order.

The Palace offers at special sale for one week 1,395 yards cream white flannel, the 10-cent quality, at 20 yards for $1. The Palace is receiving new fall goods almost every day and the fall stock will be complete in a very short time. Call and see the new goods.

Fred Oates, a young miner, met with a shocking death in the Codrum mine, near Nevada City, Cal. The pump column, an iron tube about fourteen feet long and six inches in diameter, fell down the shaft and struck him. He was impaled by it and the body had to be cut away. Oates was 22 years old and unmarried.

Mrs. Joseph Germain of Winnemucca suddenly lost her sight. She was taken to San Francisco and was treated by Dr. Barkan, the oculist, who found the sight of the left eye had been destroyed and the right eye in danger of being lost, with the chances in favor of saving it. No cause is assigned for this remarkable circumstance.

Arrivals at the Hotel Reno last night were DeWitt Wise and O. H. Yeargen, San Francisco; David Young, Denver; Geo. Schissler, Carson; A. Pitcher, Westfield, Missouri; J. M. Stout, Adin, Cal.; P. Nolan, Glendale; Wm. Rose Biggs, E. Connelly, Carson; J. Ryan and Jno. Young, Washoe; Mrs. Freeman and son, Liverpool; E. J. Bryan, Virginia; L. P. Richards, city; Mrs. Lawrence and daughter, Nevada City; A. Blondell, Wadsworth; H. J. Beckman and E. A. Poe, Chicago; Jno. Jorgenson, city, and Jno. Baefe, Genoa.

Thursday evening, September 17, Clough & Crosby hall.
Saturday evening, September 26, Ryland hall.
Saturday evening, October 10, Ryland hall.
Saturday evening, October 24, Ryland hall.
Saturday evening, October 31, Ryland hall.

Members of the Club will please take notice accordingly.

A cordial invitation is extended to all voters favoring Wm. J. Bryan for President to attend each meeting and sign the roll.

By order of the Executive Committee.
Primary Elections.

Next Saturday primary elections will be held in this county for the election of delegates to the Silver party and Democratic Conventions to be held Monday the 21st instant. The calls for these primaries are published in the JOURNAL.

The Populists will also hold a primary election next Saturday to elect delegates to a convention to be held on the 21st inst. Three conventions will, therefore, be held on the same day, and though all the parties profess to be for Bryan they differ, it appears, on other matters.

THE LADIES.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, makes it their favorite remedy. Condensed Testimony. Chas. B. Hood, Broker and Manufacturers Agent, Columbus, Ohio, certifies that Dr. King's New Discovery has no equal as a cough remedy. J. D. Brown, proprietor of St. James Hotel, Fort Wayne, Ind., testifies that he was cured of a cough of two years standing, caused by La Grippe, by Dr. King's New Discovery. B. P. Merrill, Baldwinsville, Mass., says that he has used and recommended it and never knew it to fail, and would rather have it than any doctor, because it always cures. Mrs. Hemming, 222 E. 25th street, Chicago, always keeps it at hand and has no fear of croup because it instantly relieves. Free trial bottles at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

Mrs. B. E. Hunter is the busy woman who has in less than four years, here in Reno, sold Thirteen Thousand Seven Hundred dollars worth of Viava remedies. The reason so much has been sold is simply because they are the grandest remedies in the world and will not fail to cure if used as recommended. Gentlemen who have stomach troubles, come and get some of our tabloids; you will never regret it. Any person who is ill, come and see if we have not a remedy that will cure you.

A VIGIL.

Is this the dawn that slowly leaves
The shadowy bed so still and white,
And with its cool, soft touch unweaves
The fevered fancies of the night?
Is this the dawn? Oh, love, you lie
So calm beside the taper's beam,
As though it were not you and I
Who laughed together in my dream.
While o'er the flowery way abreast
We stepped along the springy loam,
Till outward to the closing west
Gold pathways led across the sea.
And all the purpling depths of space,
And all eve's tender, softening glow
Were deeper, holier round your face—
Your face, my love, so close to mine.
And lo, your eyes looked o'er the bay
And shone so—two conflicting gleams,
Lovers' dawn, and the last glance of day Met in a halo—Love, it seems
Only a dream, your floating hair
Beams billowed, and a dream your face,
Now morning takes us unaware
And draws aside the shielding lace.
Of night, and breathing early flowers,
Looks boldly on the placid lid,
And brightens all the unending showers
Of gold, wherein last night lay hid
Your hand upon my shoulder. Dear,
In thy long dream sometimes are night
Bend o'er me when the sky is clear And look against the western light.
—William Woodward in Chambers' Journal

Masonry and the Druses.
A few months ago I had occasion to enter into a business contract with one of my Druse farmers. When we were about to draw up the agreement, the Druse suggested that, as he could neither read nor write, we should ratify the bargain in the manner customary among his people. This consists of a solemn grasping of hands together in the presence of two or three other Druses as witnesses while the agreement is recited by both parties. Being always on the qui vive to gain a practical insight into the manners and customs of the Druses, I readily consented to this form of contract, hoping thereby to learn something more of their methods of procedure.

Accordingly the farmer brought three of his neighbors to me, and the terms of our contract having been made known to them one of them took the right hand of each of us and joined them together, while he dictated to us what to say after him. To my great astonishment, the Druse who was grasping my hand gave me the grip of Master Mason.
I immediately returned it, to his equal surprise. He asked me how and where I had learned their secret sign, and this set me on the track of further inquiries, the result of which has been to render what was before a very strong belief on my part an absolute conviction.
I feel morally certain that my theory is correct, and, speaking as a Mason and as one who has also searched somewhat fully into the mystic rites of the Druse, I can assert that, in many particulars, the esoteric teaching of both systems is more or less identical. Owing to the extreme secrecy and inconveniences of the Druse character it is most difficult to gain an insight into their inner rites and tenets, and it requires many years of intercourse with them and the firm establishment of relations of mutual confidence, and trust before one can be in a position to learn anything concerning them. — Blackwood's Magazine.

The Royal Scots.
The Royal Scots, though not, as some writers would have us believe, the oldest or nearly the oldest regiment in the world, has still much to be proud of. It represents regiments which took part in the most brilliant actions of three such captains as Gustavus Adolphus, Conde and Turenne, and to these honors have been added distinguished service under Marlborough and Wellington. Is there another regiment in the world that can show such a history as this? We greatly doubt it, and surely this is sufficient without tracing an imaginary pedigree to the Scottish guards and moving the birthday even of that famous corps backward for two centuries without the slightest warrant from history. A regument need not disturb itself to inquire whether it covered the retreat of Saul's army at the action of Gibeon when it can authentically quote such names as Leipsic, Rocroi, Lens, Dunkirk, Blenheim and Waterloo.—Macmillan's Magazine.

Cure For Hypochondria.
A young lady of Cardiff, who fancied she was dying, went to the surgery of the family doctor and commenced the interview with "Doctor, I'm dying."
"Oh, indeed I can recommend a very respectable undertaker," blandly responded the doctor. She felt quite well after that.—Cardiff Mail.

TO CURE HEADACHES.
Simple Remedies That Will Bring Speedy Relief to Sufferers.
"A hot bath, a stroll in the fresh air, shampooing the head in weak soda water or a timely nap in a cool, quiet room will sometimes stop a nervous headache," writes Dr. B. F. Herriek in Ladies' Home Journal. "When over-fatigued from shopping or sightseeing, a sponge dipped in very hot water and pressed repeatedly over the back of the neck between the ears will be found ex-ceptionally refreshing, especially if the face and temples are afterward subjected to the same treatment. Neuralgia is caused not only by cold air, but by acidity of the stomach, starved nerves, im- perfect teeth or by indolence combined with a too generous diet. Heat is the best and quickest cure for this distress- ing pain. A hot daffron, passed rapidly and deftly over several folds of flannel laid on the affected spot, will often give relief in less than ten minutes without the aid of medicine. Hot fomentations are of equal value, though when the skin is very tender it is more advisable to use dry heat, nothing being better for the purpose than bags of heated salt, flour or sand, which retain warmth for a long time. Cold water, applied by the finger tips to the nerves in front of the ear, has been known to dispel neuralgia pains like magic. When caused by acidity, a dose of charcoal or soda will usually act as a corrective. Sick headache is accompanied by bilious symptoms, and attacks usually come on when the person is overtired or below par physi- cally. This is a disease of the first half of life and often stops of its own accord after middle age. A careful diet is im- perative in every case, sweetmeats and pastry being especially pernicious. "Eating heartily with very tired, late dinners, eating irregularly, insuffi- cient mastication or too much animal food, especially in the spring or during the hot weather, is a frequent cause of indigestion, causing headaches by reflex action."

A FORGOTTEN CHAPEL.

It Was Walled Up In the Vatican Despite Its Beautiful Decorations.
The oldest decorated walls in the palace are those by Fra Angelico in the chapel of Nicholas. For some reason or other this chapel at one time ceased to be used, the door was walled up, and the very existence of the place was for- gotten. In the last century Bottari, having read about it in Vasari, set to work to find it, and at last got into it through the window which looks upon the roof of the Sistine chapel. The story, which is undoubtedly true, gives an idea of the vastness of the place, and certainly suggests the possibility of more forgotten treasures of art shut up in forgotten rooms.

One other such at least there is. High up in the Borgia tower, above the stanzo of Raphael, is a suite of rooms once in- habited by Cardinal Bibbiena, of the Chigi family, and used since then by more than one assistant secretary of state. There is a small chapel there, with a window looking upon an inner court, which was once the luxurious cardinal's bathroom, and was beauti- fully painted by Raphael in fresco, with mythological subjects. In 1835, accord- ing to Creswe and Cavascello, Passa- vant saw it as it had originally been, with the frescoes, though much damaged, still beautiful, and the marble bath still in its place in a niche painted with river gods. In one of the Vatican's pe- riodical fits of prudery the frescoes were completely hidden with a wooden wainscot, the bathtub was taken away and the room was turned into a chapel. It is believed, however, that the paint- ings still exist behind their present cov- ering.—F. Marion Crawford in Century.

The King of Lobsters.

The largest lobster ever caught on the coast of America was taken by a Bel- fast (Me.) fisherman in 1891. It weighed 23 pounds and measured 37 inches from the end of its tail to the tip of the long front claws. The monster was too large to enter a common lobster trap, but as the trap was being drawn up it was caught in the netting and safely landed. Many years ago a lobster weighing 22 pounds was captured near the same place, and the event was considered to be of enough importance to be given a place in the history of the lobster fish- ery.—Boston Herald.

SUMMONS.

IN THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT Court of the State of Nevada, in and for Washoe county.
The State of Nevada, sends to Margaret Dodge greeting: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by Charles R. Dodge, plaintiff, in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said period, and in all other cases forty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The action is brought to recover a debt due to the plaintiff by the defendant existing between the plaintiff and defendant on the grounds of desertion, commencing on or about the month of June, 1894, and continuing up to the date of filing the complaint herein, said desertion being wilful, without cause, and against the will and without the consent of plaintiff herein, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred.
And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.
In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court, at Reno, this 5th day of July, A. D. 1896.
